GRIFITH'S MEL-JAZZ, ETC. COMING TO THE ORPHEUM

One of the most significant productions looking up on the motion picture horizon is D. W. Griffith's spectacular jazz epic, "That Royle Girl," which makes its local debut at the Orpheum on Saturday. It is a melodramatic screen version of Edwin Balmer's powerful novel which created such a tremendous furore when it was first published serially in the Cosmopolitan Magazine.

That Mr. Griffith was not stingy of talent when assembling his cast is evidenced by the presence in the film of such capable and popular players as Carol Dempster, W. C. Fields, James Kirkwood and Harrison Ford. It was inevitable that "That Royle Girl" should find its way to the silver sheet, for its intensely dramatic plot of a flippant, beautiful, pleasure-craving, flapper's adventures in the fast, rough, roaring jazz belt and underworld of Chicago is loaded with all those sure-fire elements that go to make up a swift, exciting and heart-appealing picture.

But only Griffith, with his consummate artistry and directorial genius, could have added those subtle, delicate, human touches and reinforced the whole with an amazingly realistic cyclone for a climax, that stamp the production as one of the photoplay classics of all time.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. R. W. Harold Pinkney desires to thank his many supporters for according him such an overwhelming majority at the polls on Tuesday, and wishes to assure the ratepayers of Blairmore School District No. 628 that he will at all times endeavor to do all in his power as trustee to the district's best advantage.

MESSAGE MAY MEAN TRAGEDY

FERNIE, B.C., March 29.—While working near Elko Saturday, the line foreman of the East Kootenay Power Company was startled to find, in a stove at the tourist camp three miles east of Elko, on the bank of the Elk river, the following message written in a salesman's order book from which all other duplicates had been removed:

"Whoever finds this, please deliver following message to Mrs. Wilfred Hughes, care Canon R. B. McEltheran, 13 Maryland Street, Winnipeg, Man.: 'For all I have done to you and ours, please forgive me. This is the end. It seems I cannot get on so I am ending it. I am not a coward. It takes nerve to do what I am about to do. I have always loved you and the children but the way I am made makes it hard to prove this statement. My last thoughts are of you and my dear little ones. Good-bye. Your loving husband, (Sgd) 'Wilfred Hughes.'"

The book was turned over to the provincial police and Sgt. Greenwood, officer in charge here, organized a search party which scoured the bush in the vicinity and dragged the Elk river to a dam below where a watch is now being maintained but nothing further was found. The police telegraphed to Canon McEltheran at Winnipeg, but were notified that he is at present in Europe.

Sgt. Greenwood states that the search of the river and bush has been discontinued and that he is positive that there was no suicide committed, but that the note was left there by someone who wished to have himself believed dead.

The carbon paper left in the order book on which the note was written has given him a clue to the identity of the writer and he hints that developments may be expected as soon as he hears from the Winnipeg authorities.

B. PINKNEY ELECTED

Tuesday's by-election to fill the vacancy caused on the 5 and 6 school trustees through the death of Mr. L. J. Jull, resulted in the election of Mr. Harold Pinkney, with a majority of 17 over his opponent, Mr. J. A. McDonald, president of the local miners' union.

Five hundred and sixteen electors went to the poll.

The main purpose of the meeting was to consider the advisability of co-operating with the town council in the matter of assessment, and upon motion by Mr. Hamilton the Board authorized the secretary to work jointly with the town assessor on the assessment for 1926.

On motion by Mr. Hamilton, Mr. E. D. Battum was appointed auditor for the year 1926. It was also decided that quarterly audits of the district's books and affairs should be made.

The chairman informed the meeting that Messrs. Alberta Professor Discovers Medicine That Hastens Recovery Of Broken Bones

Medicine to speed up recovery from broken bones is the latest idea in surgery.

Bones consist largely of calcium phosphate, and after a fracture, fresh quantities of this substance must be taken from the blood for the formation of new bone. The healing process is slow owing to the small quantity of calcium and phosphorus in the blood.

Professor Colly, of the University of Alberta, Edmonton, obtained from the parathyroid glands an extract which, when injected or given by the mouth, increases the amount of both calcium and phosphorus in the blood. The parathyroids are four small glands in the neck near the thyroid gland, or embedded in it.

JESUS APPEARS TO HIS DISCIPLES (EASTER LESSON)

Golden Text: Because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed; blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed. John 20:29.

Lesson: John 20:24-29.

Devotional Reading: Revelation 1:9-19.

Explanations and Comments

The Risen Savior Appears to the Disciples in the Upper Room, 20:19-25.—On the evening of the Sunday following the crucifixion, Christ appeared to the disciples in the room where they were assembled. That his body was no longer subject to ordinary laws is indicated by his sudden appearance in their midst without the doors being closed. "Peace be unto you," was his greeting, and then to convince them of his identity, he showed them his pierced hands and side. The disciples believed and rejoiced. Again he said, "Peace be unto you," and added, "As my Father hath sent me, even so send I you."

"An associate and friend of years, Dr. Henry Ostrom, has described an African prince visiting the African settlement at the St. Louis Exposition. He was clad in citizen's clothes, and the people from Africa appeared in their native costumes. When this stranger proclaimed himself a prince they ridiculed him. However, an aged man said, 'I can tell whether you are a prince of the royal blood, and he ran his fingers down the back of the neck of the one who claimed to be a prince and found the scar that was there, the mark of his royalty. Then the aged man fell upon his knees with all the others to worship him. And Christ stands before us as the Lamb that had been slain, scar in his hands and feet. In his side and back and on his brow.' He is our Redeemer" (Dr. J. Wilber Chapman).

What is Doing in the World of Radio

KFI station at Los Angeles has an arrangement with KRLD, an entertainment or speaker without the person knowing that he is talking to a "dead mike."

A Missouri lady radio fan reads this in a Kansas City broadcasting station: "Since your station started broadcasting, our cat sleeps in the barn."

The biggest radio station in the world is that of Rugby, England, which covers nine hundred acres and has twelve steel masts, each more than eight hundred feet high. The length of wires used in its aerials is more than three miles. It uses a super-power of 100 kilowatts and a wave length of about 6,000 meters.

The first wireless station on the Alps has been fitted up. It is located on St. Margaret's Hut, which is 5,250 feet above sea level on the route to the summit of Mount Ross. Generally, when a climber is in danger and help is needed, the guide has to spend many hours getting down to the foot to secure assistance. With this wireless station at the top, all that is necessary is to send a telegram, and in the next few minutes help will already be on the way.

Practically all large broadcast stations in New York are booked solid for advertising. It is difficult for anyone to get advertising through these stations even at advance rates. The WEAR people all other stations for advertising accounts and revenue. The charge made by this station is said to range from $400 to $600 per hour. WMCA is another New York station which "carries" a great amount of advertising at a rate said to be $400 an hour. Other broadcasting stations throughout the country charge stiff rates for the use of their studio, but the average cost is estimated at $75 an hour.

NERVINE

It Acts Quickly

Mr. W. T. Greenway, formerly associated with the Chicago newspaper staff, has written: "For twenty years we have used Nervine in our home, and I know of no preparation so useful and quick to relieve as Nervine. As a remedy for all pains, earache, toothache, cramps and disorders of the stomach, it is a most useful and quick to relieve as Nervine. Remember, this, wherever there is pain, rub on Nervine, and you will get prompt results—see at all dealers."

Tip On Tacking

Tacks are elusive and hammers in the inexperienced hand bruise the fingers easily. Try this: Stick the tack through stiff paper or light cardboard, then hold the paper in the desired position. Thus you may bang away at Mr. Tack until he is subdued.

Victims Of Wild Animals

Over 5,000 People Killed In British India Last Year.

In British India alone last year it is reported 3,606 persons were killed by wild animals and 20,000 died from snake bites. Tigers accounted for 1,693 deaths; wolves for 835; leopards for 664; and crocodiles took the lives of 213. The wild pigs killed more than 100, bears and elephants about 70. During the year about 23,000 wild animals were killed, so that the ratio of human to wild animal deaths in the jungle is only about one to six.

New duties, new spectacles took their place in the parade that marched heavily across the shop girl's brain. The creditors, those inexorably lit, the people who fatten on the meagreness of the shop girl's purse with exorbitant prices for flimsy things due in their pangs and delays away. They were now of the yesterday. For the first time—the first time that she could remember, Joanna, waiting to be disgraced for some unknown offence against some unknown customer, thought of tomorrow as it loomed within her own outlook. That is, from one store, the others would be, for a time, barred to her. And she had struggled long to attain the splendour of salaried of the higher grades. Had she been more accessible morally she would have been more prosperous.

But Joanna stopped short of a great many things: a stopping short of too many people, classing her as one of a genus—the ultra modern genus—would not have expedited her. She counted tactically and estimated herself one week of idleness without being too deep in trouble. Of course if the worst came to the worst she could pawn the fur wrap. Cohen wouldn't know.

But Joanna didn't want to pawn that coat. At any of the dancing places to which the boys took her it would be seized immediately. Other girls are obedient of such things, and really a lot of them. Joanna, however, was not. None of the boys would be coming around for her if she showed up any place with her old and unfurrowed coat. None, that is, except John.

She quarrelled with him only last night again. She told him he was entirely too slow to keep up the pace with her. Somehow the thought of John, with whom a quarrel was never worth a second thought, since none lasted from one evening to the next, comforted her. She looked suddenly at the Old Man's quiet, unimpressive secretary. She smiled a little inwardly with the thought that she, the secretary, would be about the sort of girl John pretended to want her to be.

Fancy the glorious Joanna with the shimmering gold brown hair and the flash of scarlet across a field of velvet plaka like that! She almost laughed when the other girl to be

RUN DOWN AFTER BIRTH OF BABY

Ottawa Woman Made Strong by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ottawa, Ontario.—"I was terribly run-down after the birth of my third baby. I had awful bearing-down pains and was afraid I had serious trouble. I was tired all the time and had no appetite. My sister-in-law is using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and cannot praise it too highly and asked me to try it. I have had splendid results and feel fine all the time now. Any one who needs a thorough pack-me-up soon learns from me what to take."—Mrs. MARGARET PAGNIN, 320 Cumberland Street, Ottawa, Ontario.

Terrible Backache

Hamilton, Ont.—"After my baby was born I had terrible backache and headache. I could not do my work and felt tired from the first minute I got up. But worst of all were the pains in my sides when I moved about. I had to sit or lie down for a while afterwards. I could keep my house in order, but many things I could not do as the time because of my ailments. I was told by a neighbor to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as she said it would build me up. I was relieved before I had taken the first box and have not had any trouble like it since."—Mrs. T. MARBLE, 110 Ferguson Avenue South, Hamilton, Ontario.

"Yes," Joanna replied, "I've read about it—lots. But I'm of the opinion stuff, and I put on my own slippers, thank you."

"Then the Old Man laughed, laughed at some of his conceits didn't know he could laugh. He dropped the jade paperweight and rose. Joanna rose with him, but he turned to a window and looked out into the sky-scaper maze that opened here and there to release a glimpse of an ocean beach plunging its way down the asphaltic river toward the Narrows and the sea. When he turned back into the room Joanna stood by her chair watching him steadily. He went almost up to her, so close that she had to lift her face to look up at him. When he spoke again there was a new note in his voice.

"We mustn't fence, Joanna," he said. "I didn't send you with any idle promises. I am to have the pleasure of delivering to you a message, a rather interesting message, I assure you. Something has happened to you, or for you, that so far as I know has never happened to any girl, at least so unexpectedly. First, I am to hand you this."

The sense of impending climax and suddenly named Joanna's brain. The manner of Graydon had become portentous. She stared, fascinated, while he turned to his great desk. When he stood over her again she took into her hands, wonderingly, a small, thin book which he silently held out to her. She looked up at him. He closed her fingers about the book and then lifted his eyes to her. A folded letter dropped to the floor. Graydon recovered it and, opening it, gave it to her, muttering he to read it.

She saw her name, with the store given as her address. When she had read the first typed paragraph Joanna, Joanna with the shimmering gold brown hair, clutched frantically as if with her hands to catch her wandering will. One hand fluttered to her throat. She cowered. Graydon caught her by the shoulders and guided her as she dropped into her chair.

The Secret Of Success

Concentrating on Work and Doing It Right Said Late Lord Northcliffe. The late Lord Northcliffe, the great British newspaper owner, in a certain interview, concerning the secret of success, said: "Concentration is the secret. Too many men don't concentrate. They wander here and there in a great many different concerns or a large number of interests. They are only one and that is journalism; and the reason I have succeeded is because I devoted all my time to it."

"Work while you work, and play while you play," is an old adage. It means, no matter what you are doing, you should concentrate upon it and do it right. It means that while you work, you should work hard; and while you play, play hard. It means that while you are reading the newspapers, you should keep your mind strictly on your reading, so that you may derive benefit therefrom. If you are digging a ditch, dig with all your might until you are ready to give the next matter your whole attention. In this way you will make every five minutes of your time count, and you will be able to say, with Emerson, "Concentration is the secret of success in politics, in war, in trade, in sport, in the management of human affairs."

Luncheon Clubs Not New Idea

One Which Flourished in Addison's Days Had Quicker Rise. The modern luncheon clubs such as the Rotary, Kiwanis and Knights of the Round Table, do not typify a new idea, according to records. Luncheon clubs were well established in Addison's day when the "Spectator's Club" flourished under rules that included: "No one shall be admitted into the club that is of the same trade with any member of it; if any member swears or curses, his neighbor may give him a kick on the shin, and if any member tells stories that are not true he shall forfeit for every third lie a half penny."

Nervousness, Dizzy Spells and Heart Trouble Relieved

Mrs. S. Widerman Used Dodd's Kidney Pills

Ontario Lady Has Had No Return of Her Troubles Since Taking Dodd's Kidney Pills Four Years Ago. Newmarket, Ont.—(Special).—Once again Dodd's Kidney Pills have proved their inestimable value in the case of Mrs. S. Widerman, a well known resident of this place. She writes: "My trouble was so at times I could hardly straighten myself. When I used to stoop down I would hear others say, 'My husband told me to try Dodd's kidney pills.' I used four boxes and can say I have not troubled since with either of the things I have mentioned and that is over four years ago. I work every day."

That Mrs. Widerman's trouble came from the kidneys is evidenced by the rolled skin from Dodd's Kidney Pills. When the kidneys become clogged or put off to its eastern boundary—a line which includes the Sea of Azov—has an area of 3,870,000 square miles.

Dog Showed Perseverance

Irish Setter Puppy Traveled Eight Miles to Find Old Home

We have given many stories of won derful feats by dogs. Here is another very remarkable case reported to us in English newspapers.

A boy living outside Paris sent to a breeder of dogs in the north of France requesting him to send him an Irish setter puppy.

The puppy was placed in a crate and sent by train to the Gare du Nord station, where it was received by its new master, removed from the crate, taken across Paris in a taxi, and put in another train guarded by its master. On reaching its destination, a little village about fourteen kilometres on the other side of Paris, the dog was taken on a lead to its new home.

During the evening the dog was released for exercise in the garden, which was entirely enclosed. When the time came for the dog to be shut up for the night, however, it was nowhere to be seen. Its master searched high and low, consulted the police, and was out half the night in vain. No trace of the triumphant could be found.

Eight months later came a letter from the breeder saying the dog had just arrived home. For all those months the poor creature had wandered about in search of its old home.

Wonderful Opportunity in Peace River Country Says Sir Henry Thornton

Canada's newest inland empire is the title given to the Peace River country, Sir Henry Thornton says. "It only 60 per cent. of the acreage of the Peace River districts were brought under cultivation, more wheat would then be produced than is done at present by the whole of Canada. This country abounds in what the nation of the world want—poultry, cattle, sheep and grain. These are rated in abundance. Here we have another great empire in the west awaiting development, and an empire which will be rich in productiveness in the time to come."

Alies Allow Germany To Build Zeppelin

Airship Is Designed For Pleasure Trips and Commerce

It is reported from Friedrichshafen that the public subscription in Germany organized by Captain Eckener for the construction of a new Zeppelin, has produced so far 2,300,000 marks out of a required total of four millions. Half a million was handed over to the company in order to begin building the airship immediately.

It is understood the allies consented to the construction as the Zeppelin is destined for pleasure trips and commerce.

Uses Bow And Arrow

Caraja Indian Shoots Fish Instead of Using Hook and Line

An explorer, who is gathering Indian material in South America, writes thus of the Caraja Indian.

"As a fisherman the Caraja Indian is in a class by himself. Instead of using hook and line, he shoots fish with the bow and arrow, a difficult feat which takes to the utmost his skill with that weapon and also his ability to handle a canoe. Their canoes are dugouts, made by burning out the insides of trees, and are sometimes more than thirty feet long. In these they will follow a prize fish for hours, maneuvering the boat to a position which will enable them to get a likely shot. Many of the fish are beautifully marked and colored, so it is no trouble to trail them up or down the river. When the Indian has made a lucky shot, he unhesitatingly dives into the water and captures his fish—often nearly as big as he is."

SLANDER

An engineer previously employed in the Medicine Hat power plant recently was a slander suit against the plant superintendent who had cast aspersions on the engineer's efficiency and care of the machinery committed to his charge. His Honor Judge Green allowed the plaintiff the highest damages ($600) which a district court could allow and the judge gave the opinion that much greater damages could have been secured had the case been heard in a higher court. Close reading of the reports of the trial gives us the opinion that nothing said by the defendant in this action with respect to the plaintiff was one whit more derogatory to the engineer nor more inimical to his welfare and reputation, than damaging to teachers are slanderous remarks concerning them often made by irresponsible inclined parents and ratepayers.

From time to time, during every year, the A.T.A. receives reports from teachers where pupils maliciously, maliciously or irresponsibly mislead, circulate rumors or make false statements about teachers amongst the public, and often go so far as to surreptitiously report scandal to the board. The result is, the teachers' authority and influence are seriously undermined, at least, even though the teacher be not "let out" by the board. These instances are far too common and many teachers have threatened that a few actions for slander or libel

ALBERTA LEGISLATURE

(By John Mackenzie)

During the past week the Alberta House has been working at high pressure with a view to cleaning up the budget on hand by E. L. T. These are a possibility, that neither short session will be held after Easter, if the Dominion makes any change in the government re natural resources, and as its rural credit bill in shape.

It had been expected that the budget debate, which opened on Monday at the address of the leader of the opposition, J. C. Bowen, would continue till Wednesday, but it died on Monday evening, after one other Liberal, W. T. Henry, had spoken, and our Farmer members had replied to Mr. Bowen's criticisms.

Other Liberals had been expected to speak, and Premier Brownlee was to have wound up the debate, but the Liberals showed no inclination to go on, and the Premier was out of the house that evening. There was no amendment, and no dissent when the budget motion was put. This is considered extraordinary, particularly in a pre-election session.

In his address on the budget the Liberal leader doubted the accuracy of the surplus announced last year, claiming that had it not been for the highway grant of the Dominion government being placed in income instead of capital, and the unusually high amount received in 1925 in succession duties, there would not have been a surplus. The government has added $27,000,000 to the landed debt in the past five years, and had no fiscal policy. He suggested a vigorous land settlement policy, and a big effort to find coal markets.

Answering the opposition leader, Geo. Headley said he had never intended to such a melancholy and pessimistic attitude, the publication of which would do him harm. His statements made were unfair and inaccurate. The Canadian highway grant was properly put into income as the amount, $274,000, had been bridges and interest on highway projects. The Dominion would not give the grant unless it was a paved highway. Market roads, to gravel, etc., to markets, were high ways and as much entitled to grants as the trunk tourist roads.

Moving as an amendment the addition of the words "continue to" making the resolution read that the government should continue to spend the money received from the Canada Highways Act on highways, the vote resulted in Bowen, Dechen, Marshall and Ping's, Liberals, voting against the amendment, while the motion as amended carried without audible dissent.

During the week consideration of the estimates was taken up, the votes for the departments of agriculture, health, provincial secretary and public works being passed.

A number of bills were passed through the committee stage. Nelson Smith, U.F.A., Olds, and Donald Cameron, U.F.A., Innisfail, moved and seconded on Thursday, resolution asking the Canadian National Railway to construct a line from the Bassano line of the C.N.R. to Calgary, to serve the district west of the Calgary and Edmonton railway, which had been promised railway facilities in 1910. There was a fine farming district east of the foothills, but many settlers were considering moving out as they had to haul their produce long distances to the railway at present.

Alex. Moore, U.F.A., Cochrane; J. A. McNeil, Liberal, Beaver River; Sam Brown, U.F.A., High River; R. C. Marshall, U.F.A., Calgary; George Gaudley, U.F.A., Okotoks; Mrs. McNeil, U.F.A., Edmonton; G. W. Smith, U.F.A., Red Deer, and L. A. Giroux, Liberal, Grod, supporters of resolution.

J. C. Bowen, Liberal leader, opposed, on the ground that the sending of resolutions to Ottawa should be discouraged, and that the resolution was political in nature. Premier Brownlee replied that it was within

A SAD WARNING

The appearance of a dozen or more boys in police court, in Rediff and a Medicine Hat last week, was one of the most pathetic scenes witnessed in these parts for some time. These boys were only from fourteen to twenty years of age, yet they were charged with one of the most serious offences on the list—that of breaking into stores, warehouses, etc., and stealing; an offence punishable by fourteen years' imprisonment.

In almost every instance it was quite evident that these boys arrived at this stage because of the utter lack of interest in them and supervision over them in the home.

Being allowed to stay out till all hours of the night, attending beer parties and dances all over the country and given the privilege of driving cars when and where they liked, led these teen-age boys into the worst of company which ultimately landed some of them in jail. The pity of it is that most of them were smart, clever, clean-cut lads who might easily have made their mark in almost any line, if their energies had been directed along the right course.

This whole affair should serve as a very impressive warning to parents and boys alike.

In passing sentence on the boys in court in Medicine Hat, Magistrate "B" said he was sorry he was not in a position to give some of them a good spanking. He thought the parents were too indulgent in allowing a boy of sixteen to have their car out at all hours of the night. "Parents nowadays are not taking their part seriously in allowing boys and girls to remain out at all hours. The fact that two girls in the witness box here told of being out late at night with the boys at beer parties shows how seriously some of the parents of this city take their responsibility."

In following these cases, another matter which showed up very prominently would serve as salutary lessons to numerous people whose malice and hostility are not under complete control when a teacher's actions are under review or when her character and professional reputation are at stake.

Ninety per cent of "moves on" are a direct result of this very thing. Whether it be just or unjust, is seldom the question, here is the usual attitude of the public or school board: "Oh, well, if there's trouble, the teacher had better get out. If I were a teacher I wouldn't want to stay where I wasn't wanted." How faceless, how superficial, how transparent this attitude—how easy for everybody to endorse but the teacher—but the line of least resistance for everybody but the teacher is not necessary for the best for education.

Just as long as the teacher's exit is so easy of accomplishment; just as long as teachers refrain or shrink from fighting back, so long will they be treated as birds of passage who vanish at sight of a scarecrow. The teaching profession will gain that degree of respect only which they enforce (impose, if they will) upon that type of citizen whose idea of real respect is to bait the teacher when they consider powerless, disinclined, or afraid to strike back. If such people are incapable of honoring the individual pedagogues they can at least be made to fear the collective strength of the organized profession.—A.T.A. Magazine.

PORT ARTHUR AND TORONTO VARSITY TIE

Port Arthur and Toronto Varsity battled through three regulation periods and thirty minutes of overtime at Toronto on Monday night to a 3 to 3 tie in what was expected to be the deciding game for the Canadian amateur hockey championship and the Allan cup. This was the third game of the series and the teams remain tied with one game apiece and the tie. The fourth game will be played to-night.

spent out of income in 1921, and the sum received from Ottawa was a repayment. The net addition to the debt during the government's term of office was less than $19,000,000, and over $16,000,000 of this was rendered necessary by commitments of the previous administration.

Referring to immigration, Mr. Headley argued for a proper medical inspection in Europe. The people now attending the examination vetting steamship and transportation officials whose idea of qualifications for immigrants seemed to be the ability to pay the fare and walk about the ship. More than half the people of Alberta asylums and hospitals were foreign born, but it was next to impossible to deport them, because they were destitute.

Other speakers in the debate were: W. T. Henry, Liberal, Edmonton; W. H. Shields, U.F.A., Macleod; Russell Love, U.F.A., Wainwright, and Donald Cameron, U.F.A., Innisfail.

A full-dress debate was staged on Wednesday on the Canada Highways Act. R. C. Marshall, Liberal, Calgary, and J. C. Bowen, opposition leader, supporting a resolution that the government should use all moneys earned under the Dominion Highways Act for the construction of highways in the province. They contended that the money should not be placed in general revenue, but specially devoted to main highways, which in the opinion of the Liberal speakers, did not include market roads. The money received was being used for political purposes, and to balance the budget.

Premier Brownlee replying said that the argument was absurd. Every dollar received from the Canada Highways Act was spent on highways, and would continue to be spent on highways.

Hon. Alex. Ross, minister of public works, said that as against $274,000 of a grant, earned in 1924, and received in 1925, the province had expended $1,300,000 in 1924 and a similar amount in 1925, on highways, in view of the people of Alberta to send resolutions to Ottawa on anything that concerned the welfare of the people of Alberta; when the matter was under the jurisdiction of the Dominion. If we had been as persistent in the past as other provinces in making our requests we would be better off today.

The resolution carried, Mr. Bowen being the only dissenter.

TAXED FROM THE FIRST PEEP

That legislation can be quite as farcical as the pledges of legislators again is indicated in a ruling given by the Surrey municipal council as to the interpretation to be placed on last session's amendment to the Hospital Act, under which municipalities are rendered liable for payment at the rate of seventy cents per day for all patients receiving hospital care. In connection with maternity cases, it developed that this charge is not entered as for only the mother, but the infant, from the hour it first sees the light of day. Twice are held to warrant a $2.10 per diem assessment, and as one of the Surrey council was moved to remark at the last meeting of that body: "Heaven save us from an epidemic of triplets."

ROD AND GUN IN CANADA

"Of considerable interest in view of the recent controversy in Ontario over the usefulness or not of the crow, is a series of articles on Jack Miner's work that is running in Rod and Gun, the sporting magazine. The April issue contains an interesting article with reference to 'his advice on the establishment of a large bird sanctuary.'

The April issue of Rod and Gun also contains a very good offering of reading matter of interest to the sportsman, the lover of wild life and the outdoors and the casual general reader. An account of a tenderfoot bear hunt in the Wilds of British Columbia makes very interesting reading as do the current articles of Raymond Thompson's series "In the Big Woods of Canada" and A. Bryan Williams, "Breeds from the West."

The regular departments on fishing, outdoor life, guns, dogs and trapping, contain some good reading matter as well as instructive material.

Rod and Gun is published monthly by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ontario.

Two women in a train argued concerning the window, and at last one called the conductor.

"If this window is open," she declared, "I shall catch cold and die."

"If the window is shut," declared the other, "I shall suffocate."

The two glared at each other.

The conductor was at a loss, and welcomed the advice of a man who sat near. "First open the window," the man suggested, "that will kill one. Then shut the window, that will kill the other. Then we'll have peace."

HOW TO TEST BOOTLEG

WHISKY AT HOME

The following recipes are suggested by H. L. Phillips, in Collier's Weekly:

Flame test—Open a bottle and pour a small amount into a saucer. Strike a match and light the liquid. If it gives blue flame, it is good alcohol. If it gives yellow flame, it is also good alcohol. Or vice versa.

Rabbit test—Take a rabbit (which should always be part of the complete kitchen equipment in the modern home) and drop ten drops of the liquor down its throat. If the rabbit dies, it is bad liquor. If the rabbit lives, it is a bad rabbit.

Rake test—Get an ordinary garden rake. Dip a sponge into a saucer of liquor and gently moisten the prongs of the rake. Then lay the rake in a cool dry place for four minutes. If, when you pick the rake up at the expiration of that time, there are no prongs on it, the liquor is only fair as liquor goes today. If there are twice as many prongs on it as there were in the first place, you will have to let your conscience be your guide.

House-party test—This is the test that seems most popular. On the evening that the contents of the case are to be tested, a number of neighbors or other friends should be invited over for a little party—"just a quiet little evening where we can all have a little fun, you know." No strict rules governing the type of people they should be are possible beyond a provision that they be fairly rugged. It is optional with the host how many people he shall invite, but he would do well to limit the guests to one ambulance load.

"All right back there?" called the conductor from the front of the car. "Hold on," cried a feminine voice. "Wait until I get my clothes on."

The entire careful of passengers craned their necks to look. A girl got on with a basket of laundry.

A man from Glasgow was standing in Belfast watching the sights when a band came around the corner playing a lively tune. The day was hot and the bandmen had their coats off. Having no one with him to take to the man from Glasgow stepped up to an Irishman who was passing and said with a smile:

"I see they have to take their coats off to play the band here."

"Begorra, and that's nothing, answered the Irishman. "When I was in Scotland I noticed that they had to take their pants off to play the bagpipes."

In a Scottish country parish a well known joker was chatting with the minister, who jocularly said: "I suppose, Jaime, you have in your time made up nearly as many witticisms as I have sermons?"

Jaime: "Weel, I d'na ken, but ye have a great advantage over me."

Minister: "In what way?"

Jaime: "In this way—if I try tae pain off an au' joke on anyone the sights is detected at once; but folks pay sae little heed tae sermons that when an au' one's preached it gangs doon just as weel as a brand new discourse!"

A Woman's Idea

A woman entered a police station here the other day and reported the loss of a check book, and offered a reward for its return.

"Why go to all that trouble?" said the Sergeant. "The bank will give you another."

The woman brightened. "That's what I told my husband," she exclaimed, "and, besides, the checks won't be any good to anyone else. I signed them all!"

"That's strange," said the bootmaker. "You're the only person that's complained. Did they fit you all right?"

"Aye," was the reply, "but they were a wee bit tight for me brither on the night shift."

World Wide Reforms

All worth-while reforms are slow of accomplishment because the people of the world are essentially conservative in their thought and action. It is perhaps well that this should be so, otherwise dangers might be slung into the acceptance of unsound theories and hastily conceived and ill-considered policies leaving loss, suffering and ruin in their wake.

But there is such a thing as being too ultra-conservative, and so bound by old-time precedent and usage that wise progress and sane advancement is made extremely difficult and for long years impossible. Such extreme conservatism is baneful. Danger there may be from the optimistic reformer who urges his pet theory or scheme as a "sure-all" for the ills from which mankind and the body politic may suffer, and as the key which will open the door to Utopia. But there is equal danger from the chronic pessimist who scoffs at everything new and declares "it won't work."

For a long time there have been advocates of a reform of the system of currency in Great Britain, and of the systems of weights and measures in Great Britain, Canada, United States and some other countries. These advocates have consistently and persistently urged the adoption of the decimal and metric systems. They have carried on a work of education which apparently is going to bear fruit. At all events, official cognizance is being taken, both in Great Britain and the United States, of the growing strength of the demand for reform in these matters.

Great Britain, with its world-wide trade and commerce, cannot afford in these days of rapid communication and transportation, and intense world competition, to cling to its present rather archaic system of pounds, shillings and pence, when all the other great trading nations have adopted the decimal system.

Nor should Canada and the United States continue to adhere to their equally out-of-date systems of weights and measures with twelve inches to a foot, three feet to a yard, 1,760 yards to a mile, two plants to a quart, four quarts to a gallon, not to mention grains, ounces, pounds, pecks, bushels, tons, etc., with avoirdupois and Troy weights.

The adoption of the metric system of weights and measures would enormously simplify not only all international commerce but our own domestic business as well. Soldiers of all nations serving in France soon discovered how simple and easily understood is this metric system; and undoubtedly their experience and knowledge is having its effect in influencing the more pronounced agitation for this reform which is in evidence throughout the world.

Another question which is coming to the front is the reform of the calendar. Interested as it is in the removal of all causes of misunderstanding and in promoting the most friendly internationalism, the League of Nations is taking an active part in connection with these reform movements, and at the present time one of its committees is giving consideration to numerous plans submitted to it, providing for a reform of the calendar. One of the new plans reserved for further study out of the large number submitted is by a Canadian, and provides for a year of thirteen months, each of 28 days. Under this plan the first day of each month would be a Sunday. The present names of the months would be continued, but a new month created out of the last half of June and the first half of July. In order to make up the full 365 days of the year, there would be one day at the end of the year to be known as "Year Day." The convenience of having all months of equal length, and of having the days of the week always falling on the same dates, can hardly be overestimated.

There would naturally and inevitably be some confusion at first during the short period of readjustment from the present time-honored systems and customs to the new, but the admittedly great economic gains and conveniences which would result from these proposed changes would surely far out-weigh the temporary inconveniences.

Canada led the world in adopting the new universal system of standard time under which the globe is mapped out in zones within which the time is uniform. Canada, like the United States, has a decimal monetary system. Why should the Dominion not lead the way on this continent at least by adopting the metric system of weights and measures, and also throw the weight of its influence into the scale in favor of a reform of the calendar?

New Steel Takes Razor Edge

Modern Product Developed By Ohio Man

Many of the qualities of the celebrated Damascus steel are said to be found in a modern product which an Ohio man has developed by a secret process. It combines iron and carbon in such a way that the resulting steel will bend, keep an edge of razor sharpness, is tough and can be drilled through other steels without breaking. A bar of the material, fifteen inches long, was tempered to five different degrees, one end of it being hard enough to cut glass, a section was sharpened like a razor and would cut dry hair without heating or stopping, while other parts in the same bar would bend or spring or could be bent backward and forward without the thumb and forefinger without breaking. Vanadium is an important element used in the preparation of the steel. Popular Mechanics.

Oil Flame Burns In Water

Remarkable Discovery Has Been Made By Belgian Scientist

A Belgian scientist has succeeded in discovering an oil flame that will burn for weeks submerged in water without going out, and by which most of the heat loss of an ordinary boiler is avoided. A device similar to a carburetor burns a spray of crude oil mixed with air into the burner under pressure. Water is kept out of the burner until the flame is well started, and then allowed to rise around the flame and cover it. The inventor is said to have obtained almost perfect efficiency by putting the flame directly into the water.

The reign of prosperity in the rubber producing areas of the Dutch East Indies, resulting from the high price of that product, has brought on, a spendthrift wave among the natives. Could Stand Greater Unity

Canada and Australia Not As Intimate As They Should Be

Every dominion within the British empire will join in congratulating the Australian Commonwealth upon the 25th anniversary of the establishment of British Government on the island continent. Although Captain Cook first raised the Union Jack on Australian territory in 1770, thus taking formal possession of the unknown land, it was not until eighteen years later that British rule was formally set up in Sydney. From the sword beginning of a penal settlement for poor wretches sentenced to transportation, Australia has grown to be a self-governing dominion of states, paying its way, progressing steadily towards its definite ideals, upholding rigidly British standards of justice and right, and yet developing a strong national spirit.

The relations between Australia and Canada have not been so close or so intimate as they might well have been. High countries are to blame in varying degrees for this. We are Australia's nearest neighbor within the empire looking eastward. We are her eastern link with the centre of the empire. The closer Canada and Australia draw together, the stronger the empire becomes by that linking up. Though each country has its own individual national aspirations, and each its own destiny to achieve, there are many directions in which the two can walk together—Montreal Star.

To Aid Starving Indians

Royal Canadian Mounted Police Leave For Far North With Provisions

A detachment of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police left Port Smith recently on a long trek into the barren lands in an effort to save a band of Eskimos from death by starvation.

A large quantity of food was carried on the sleds. The location of the band of starving caribou eaters is believed to be 200 miles northwest in the barren lands.

Indian Killed in Jump From Aeroplane

Parachute Stuck With Parachute, One Failed To Open

Jack Miller, an Indian, at Santa Anita, Cal., died as a result of jumping from an aeroplane with his parachute. He was the first to jump, intending to use one by one, until he had discarded all but the last one.

He successfully cut loose from three parachutes, but when he cast away from the fourth he was so close to the ground that the next one failed to open. He fell 100 feet, sustaining injuries from which he died.

From Rome To Washington By Auto

Ambitious Plan of Italian Engineer May Be Put Into Effect

Anton Daini, an Italian engineer, with the support of the Italian Government, announces he will attempt the unusual—a motor car trip from Rome to Washington.

Daini's plans read as a page from Jules Verne. He announces that he has invented an amphibious motor car, which will be able to navigate rivers and not to storm seas. The intrepid Italian plans to start his venture on a journey from Venice, going to Trieste, thence to Constantinople, Trebizond, India, Burma, Indo-China, China, Japan and Vladivostok.

From Vladivostok, Daini plans to board his amphibious automobile for the Behring Straits, and, having the land drive his navigable motor car across the Behring Straits to Northern Canada, thence to Edmonton, Winnipeg, Chicago, Cleveland, Buffalo, New York, Philadelphia and Washington. Date for the departure has not yet been set.

A Clever Answer

A newspaper publisher offered a prize for the best answer to the conundrum, "Why is a newspaper like a woman?" The prize was won by a lady who sent in this answer: "Because every man should have one of his own and not run after his neighbors'."

Don't Think that because a soft answer turns away wrath that it will work the same way with a book agent.

REQUIESCAT IN PACE!

Mice should long ago have decided that a printing office was a poor hang-out for them and that the least they could expect to find there was food.

We set a trap in our office one day last week. That night a mouse got into that trap and met instant death. A few days later we went to remove the remains and found nothing but a bunch of hair and bones. Some of the cannibals of the mouse tribe had removed the rest. We gathered up the bones and put them all in their proper place. Next we invited the photographer, and had a post-card size picture taken of the frame. We sent that picture to New York for enlargement and forwarded same to Ottawa where a new picture of an Alberta d'noaur is being manufactured, with the promise that it will appear on Alberta screens later in the season.—R.L.P.

SELF-EFFACING CELEBRITIES

The Vancouver Sun, "owned, operated and controlled by Vancouver men" . . . the "Champion of the cause of Western prosperity" . . . a Vancouver paper for Vancouver people, last Friday published a full page of "pictures of some of the members of the Sun editorial staff."

Introduction is singularly timely, inasmuch as a very large majority of Vancouver folk have never met, and probably never will meet, the particular writing stars among those who make the afternoon daily that is owned, operated and controlled by Vancouver men.

It also will interest the United States friends, intimates and admirers of Dr. Frank McCoy, Dr. Frank Crane, Glenn Frank, Dorothy Dix ("highest paid woman writer in the world") and Arthur Brisbane ("world's greatest reporter") to know that they are now on the editorial staff of the Vancouver Sun, a paper "owned, operated and controlled by Vancouver men"—although none of their names is listed in either the city directory or telephone book.

They must be here though, right "in our midst" like appendicitis, for the Sun assures Vancouverites that "you often meet these men and women in the course of your daily activities" . . . and "these men and women are proud of the part they play as writers for the People's Paper."

Possibly, too, it may surprise even these titans of journalism themselves, for it is extremely doubtful if any of the distinguished company knows that he or she is here; or has so much as seen Vancouver at any time.

Dorothy Dix and Arthur Brisbane are extensively advertised in the United States as under long-term contracts to write exclusively for publications owned, operated and controlled by Mr. William Randolph Hearst.

They are, on the authority of the Vancouver Sun, members of its editorial staff—the former "the highest paid woman writer in the world," which will somewhat amuse Mrs. Mary Roberts Rhinehart, and the latter "the world's greatest reporter!"

Why then, Mr. Hearst himself must now be a Vancouverite!

For is not the Vancouver Sun "owned, operated, and controlled by Vancouver men?"—The Western Tribune.

To the Last

Isaac was dying, there was no doubt about it. He had been unconscious for hours. His family had anxiously gathered about his bedside. Suddenly his eyes opened. His wife leaned over him and said tenderly, "Ikey, do you know me?"

"Ach, what foolishness; sure I know you; you're Rebecca, mine wife."

"And these peoples, do you know them?"

"Ya, Jake, my son; Isidor, my nephew; Rosie, my daughter; Simon, my son, and my brother David, and Joseph—Ach, Gott, who's tending store?"

SHORT STORY

The high school teacher of English was instructing her class on the essentials of short story writing. She said it was simple, providing the story contained a reference to God, to royalty and to modesty. It was necessary to refer to God because people are naturally of a religious disposition; to royalty because of the romance connected with that institution; and to modesty because it appeals to everybody. So she instructed her pupils according to these rules. In a very short time Isadore MacDoodle, the smartest pupil, held up his hand.

"What, Isadore, so soon?" enquired the teacher.

"Yes, ma'am, I've finished my composition," replied Isay.

"Read it," said the teacher.

And Isay read: "My God!" cried the Duchess, "take you hand off my leg."

PLAN TO FILL UP VACANT LANDS NEAR RAILWAYS

Ottawa.—A government scheme for making loans to settlers on crown lands was closely discussed in the house. Debate first turned on the resolution preceding the bill. Hon. Chas. Stewart, minister of interior, in sponsoring the resolution, intimated that the purpose of the scheme was to encourage settlement along the railways.

The resolution was adopted and the bill given first reading. The resolution, sponsored by Hon. Chas. Stewart, acting minister of immigration, proposes that the government should advance to settlers on crown lands, who are Canadian citizens, loans up to $1,000, to other settlers, not coming within that definition, loans up to $500.

The total sum which the government would be authorized to pay out in any particular year would be limited to $5,000,000.

Hon. Chas. Stewart, minister of the interior, stated that there was still a considerable area of crown lands in the prairie provinces within an area of 15 miles from the railways. One of the objects of the legislation was to encourage settlers to take up these lands, clear them and cultivate them. "What we ought to try to do is to consolidate settlement along the railway lines," said Mr. Stewart.

The minister pointed out that if settlement was pushed back far from the existing lines of railway, settlers were working under a certain amount of hardship and laboriousness in the railway extensions. It was desirable to save the Dominion and Provincial Governments the cost of opening up new territory.

Kept Lighthouse Lamp Going

Fourteen-Year-Old Girl Was Alone For Three Nights on Isle of Wight.

London.—The light in St. Helen's lighthouse, near Cambridge, on the Isle of Wight, was kept burning for three nights by the 14-year-old daughter of the lighthouse keeper, Langton. The girl was marooned there with food, except one loaf of bread and a small piece of cake, but nevertheless she carried out her duty bravely.

Langton and his wife rowed ashore in a rough sea to fetch food and oil to the lighthouse, says The Daily Mail. While they were ashore the sea rose in its fury, and when returning several attempts made in a lifeboat and motor boat the father and mother were unable to return to the beacon.

Aside from an anxiety for his daughter left alone in the lighthouse with scarcely any food, Langton worried as to whether she would realize the necessity to light the lamp, which is one of the most important ones along the coast. Great was his relief when the light beamed punctually, and remained burning throughout the night.

At the first word, regularly while Mr. and Mrs. Langton were ashore, it was evident that the girl kept alive the clockwork apparatus which turned the light.

New Tariff Board

Hon. George P. Graham Has Been Appointed Chairman.

Ottawa.—In response to a query made in the House of Commons by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Premier King announced the personnel of Canada's new tariff board. Rt. Hon. George P. Graham will be chairman and Joseph Darnett, of Montreal, and Donald G. MacKenzie, of Winnipeg, will constitute the tariff board.

Experts from the various branches of the government service and any other financial and economic experts will be called in to act in an advisory capacity occasionally. The commission itself will inquire into tariff matters and advise the government.

Funding French Debt

London.—Mr. Hon. Winston Churchill, chancellor of the British exchequer, hopes that negotiations looking to the funding of the French debt to Britain will be shortly resumed. In expressing himself optimistically in the house, the chancellor said there were still difficulties to overcome, the most serious of which was the French contention that in the event of total failure of the German reparations France could not be expected to continue payments.

Prepare Italians For Emigration To Canada

Premier Mussolini Advises Sending Southerners to Northern Italy.

London.—Premier Mussolini, of Italy, proposes transferring Southern Italians to Northern Italy, where they can be acclimated, preparatory to emigrating to Canada and establishing what he calls "emigration centres."

This purpose was revealed by Senator Dandurand, of Montreal, in an interview with the British United Press. Senator Dandurand said he recently saw a letter from Mussolini to Miss Garibaldi, who went to Canada to see if it would be possible to establish an Italian township. She found, he said, that Canada was everywhere "Don't send Southern Italians, and northerners." For this reason Mussolini has started this way out of the difficulty and is seriously working out his scheme for preparing his countrymen for life in Canada.

Senator Dandurand said "Something audacious like this is needed to overcome the unemployment problem in England. Agricultural training centres should be created in England for preparing emigrants for their life in Canada."

Egyptians Recognize Prestige Of Britain

Majority Realize What Empire Has Done For Their Country

Ottawa.—An optimistic outlook for Egypt and its relations with Great Britain was given by Viscount Alenby, until recently high commissioner in that country, in an address following a luncheon by the Canadian Club here. The victorious commander of the Palestine campaign was given an impressive welcome by a distinguished audience.

The prestige of Great Britain in Egypt, Lord Alenby said, was never greater than it is today. "There is a real feeling of recognition on the part of the majority of the Egyptians for what Britain has done for their country."

Will Protect Soviet Delegates

Russian Representatives Invited To Disarmament Talk In Geneva

Geneva.—The text of a Soviet proposal for a final appeal to Soviet Russia from the League of nations council to participate in the disarmament studies in Geneva has been made public. It shows that the council upholds the attitude of the Swiss Government that Moscow should not expect different treatment from that accorded to other representatives of the other countries invited.

The letter emphasizes that Switzerland has promised every measure of protection for the Soviet delegates, thus seeking to remove fears that they might be the scene of incidents, similar to that in Lausanne in 1923 when Vorovsky was assassinated.

His Majesty King George Offers Valuable Casket To Be Preserved in Canadian Building in London

London.—His Majesty King George has presented to King Edward by the survivors of the war of 1914-18, Queenston Heights in 1959, when King Edward, as the Prince of Wales, was a visitor in the Dominion. The casket is of black walnut, Canadian oak and Canadian maple. It is of beautiful workmanship and is richly carved, and on it is a representation of the Prince of Wales plume.

Will Discuss Locarno Pact

Canadian House of Commons Will Have Opportunity After Easter

Ottawa.—The House of Commons will be given an opportunity to discuss the Locarno agreement shortly after the Easter recess. Premier King, in answer to a question by Dr. P. McMillan (Conservative, Muskoka), stated that if members were anxious to discuss the agreement, he would see that an opportunity was given. He observed that the agreement was not yet in effect. Consequently, there did not appear to be any great need for haste in discussing it.

Gifts For King and Prince

St. Louis, Mo.—Two Anglo-Saxon skis destined to be a present to King George of England and the Prince of Wales, are on exhibition here. The skis were selected by the Prince on his Alberta ranch and have been undergoing a drying and tanning process here. They will be shipped to England next week.

Lloydminster Oil Discovery

Recent Find Promises To Result In An Oil Boom

Blackfoot.—What promises to be an oil boom has started in the town of Lloydminster, Sask., with a number of claims already filed with the Dominion lands office at Prince Albert, where $1,000 was taken in last Saturday.

It was a cow that made history by setting fire to the old city of Chicago. A cow, or rather cattle, have been the authors of the present excitement in the northern town, which, with the announcement that it will be made the divisional point of the new Canadian Pacific line, has made the place a booming settlement.

For the past two years John Martin, a farmer 12 miles south of town on the Saskatchewan side of the Alberta boundary, has had difficulty in making his cattle drink the water from a 160-foot well situated on his property. Recently, at the instance of a letter from Edmonton, who was interested in oil development, a sample of the bottom of the shaft was sent to the University of Alberta for analysis.

The answer from the analyst was that the sample was 75 per cent of what is known as distillate, an even purer form of liquid fuel than the sticky, muddy liquid drilled in the Wainwright field, with which, according to the professor, this Lloydminster discovery has a geological connection.

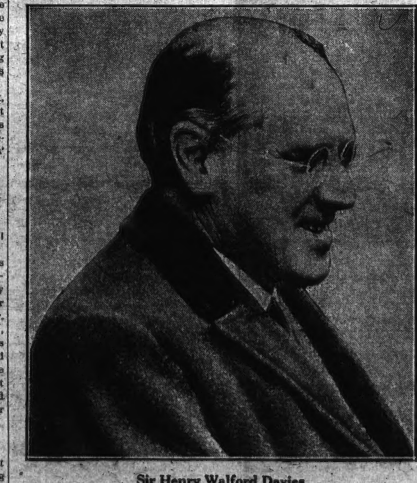

THE PROBLEM OF THE WORLD WAR'S HERITAGE

London.—The problem of the world's heritage of late called debts was given a periodical airing in the House of Commons and Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, and Philip Snowden, Laborite and former chancellor, who are poles apart politically, joined hands in the house in agreeing that the burden of responsibility for the war debt difficulties rests on the United States for refusing to adopt a policy of abroad cancellation.

Mr. Snowden precipitated the debate in the hope of helping to bring Great Britain's recalcitrant continental creditors to time, and he spared not their the United States. "We are not likely in the coming bitter criticism for which he has a reputation."

With ministerial responsibility as associated with his utterances, Mr. Churchill restrained his statement somewhat, and on the whole was hopeful of obtaining from Great Britain's debtors the necessary $23,000,000, stating which this country is now paying to the United States annually. And thus the chancellor of the exchequer in the hope of helping to bring Great Britain's recalcitrant continental creditors to time, and he spared not their the United States. "We are not likely in the coming bitter criticism for which he has a reputation."

Mr. Churchill described the undertaking to pay $100,000 sterling daily for more than three generations of the nation as "one of the most stupendous tasks and burdens ever assumed by any country in the whole world's history."

Sir Henry Walford Davies

World-famous exponent of the educational and national value of music, who will be a delegate to the third triennial conference of the National Council of Education to be held in Montreal, April 1-3. Sir Henry is a pioneer in community singing and has composed a number of well-known chorals for English musical festivals, among them being the music for "Barmy," originally produced at Leeds and frequently repeated.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO DOMINIONS FOR SUPPORT

London.—Sir Austen Chamberlain opened his speech in the House of Commons debate on the Geneva situation by saying he wished to pay a debt to the dominions and India which pressed strongly upon him. There were present at Geneva during the arduous and anxious fortnight he passed, representatives of all the British dominions and India, and it was his good fortune throughout to be in the closest touch and consultation with them.

They all felt almost daily in his room, Sir Austen said, and communications of the most confidential nature passed among them, more than once daily. He desired to express the debt that he owed them for the sympathy and support which they had accorded him in one of the most difficult tasks that it had ever been his lot to confront.

May Expect Large Orders

Australia Will Buy Canadian News-Print Say Melbourne Editor

Vancouver.—Canada may expect a third or a half of the Australian newsprint orders, running more than a million pounds sterling as a result of the Australian-Canadian trade treaty, according to Keith Murdoch, editor and general manager of the Melbourne Herald, who arrived in Vancouver from the Orient on the Empress of Australia, enroute to London, England.

At first the treaty appeared to favor Canada. Sale of dried and canned goods from Australia in this country he thought would depend upon the attitude of exporters in Australia. "It might be advantageous to have a real Dutch Australian trade representative in this country, or some representative of the manufacturing and export houses. Conditions in Australia were bright but obscured."

An Epochal Event

Radio Delivers Message To School Room In Toronto

Toronto, Ont.—Mrs. Adelaide M. Plumptre, member of the board of education, speaking at a mother and son banquet, said that so far as she knew for the first time in Canada pupils in some of the high schools of Toronto sat in their classrooms one afternoon recently and heard the radio deliver its messages to them. She thought it an epochal event, not only in the history of this country, but to an age when so many remarkable things were being achieved.

Last Week In The Alberta Legislation

Healthy Financial Condition of the Province Is Shown In Budget Speech

Edmonton.—The shortest budget debate on record concluded on Monday evening, the proceedings being confined to one day, excepting the budget speech by the provincial treasurer, Hon. R. D. Held, made on Thursday. Two opposition and four government members spoke.

In presenting the budget, which called for an estimated expenditure of $11,677,862.83, and revenue of $11,699,822.39, leaving a surplus of $21,959.46, Mr. Held commented on the healthy financial condition of the province. The proportion of all local taxation including provincial and municipal, to production was 7.7 per cent, the lowest of any province west of Quebec. Reviewing the situation during the five-year tenure of the Farmer Government, Mr. Held said that they had been able to effect big economies, controllable expenditure having been reduced $1,179,294.57.

J. C. Brown, opposition leader, criticized the administration of the government, stating that greater economies should be effected. The other speakers in the debate were W. T. Henry, Liberal, Edmonton; Hon. Geo. Hoodless, minister of agriculture; W. N. Shields; H. P. A. Macleod; Russell Lore, U.F.A.; Wainwright; and Donald Cameron, U.F.A. In total, a number of others had intended to speak, but the debate collapsed on account of the Liberals not having their speaker ready.

Several hours debate took place on the new Factory Act, which provides for a general fifty-four-hour week in factories, workshops, stores, etc., with power given to the lieutenant-governor in council after January 1st, 1927, to declare for a forty-eight hours week. It was stated during the debate that eighty per cent of the organized industries of the province were already on an eighty-hour week.

The act was given second reading, but the government will introduce some amendments during the committee stage to meet representations made.

During the week a number of bills were advanced to the committee stage.

SAYS GRAIN RATE

RESULTS IN LOSS TO RAILWAYS

Ottawa.—On handling grain west of Port William the Canadian National Railway lost $12,000,000 in 1925 and 1926—approximately $6,000,000 each year—according to evidence given before the board of railway commissioners by R. J. Watson, of the Canadian National Railway, at the hearing of the application of the Quebec harbor commission for a lower grain rate on the National transcontinental line.

Mr. Watson said: "We are handling a lot of high-class traffic at the same time which compensates us for this loss." The figures for the 1925 grain handling were not at present available and Mr. Watson said he was not familiar with the figures east of Port William.

Deputy Chief Commissioner Vian wanted to know how the figures of the losses on the grain trade were arrived at. The reply was that the company was prepared to show the accounting to the board, but was willing to have it made public. Mr. Vian argued that the parties interested in this case "had an inherent right" to know how this loss was arrived at. Such a statement must be justified.

United Grain Growers Purchase String Of Eighteen Elevators From Government

Winnipeg.—Sale of 18 of the Manitoba Government elevators to the United Grain Growers' Limited, was consummated by order-in-council signed by Lieutenant-Governor Sir James A. Macdonald today.

The sale price involves a total of $101,000, the prices received for individual elevators ranging from $1,000 to $9,000. The company previously had purchased 13 of the government-owned elevators and at present holds 56 on lease which expires in the fall of 1927.

NEW SETTLERS FOR CANADA ARE MOSTLY BRITISH

Ottawa.—The department of immigration and colonization, in response to a reported speech delivered in Montreal recently by William Birks. Objection is taken to the reported declaration that Canada was encouraging alien and not British immigration.

"An examination of the steamship manifests of all passenger ships arriving at Atlantic ports from the first of February to the fifth of March shows that a total of 2,316 passengers, 1,537 were British, and 779 were aliens," states the department. "During the last fiscal year overseas British immigration totaled 55,178 against overseas alien immigration of 42,308, and in the previous fiscal year 72,919 British against 55,120 aliens. Not only is it not true now, but it never was true that overseas alien immigration equalled overseas British immigration."

Referring to another reported statement in the speech, the department says:

"Canada for years past has secured more immigrants from the British Isles year by year (with one possible exception) than Australia, and usually more than Australia, New Zealand and South Africa combined."

"Further than this, Australia gets comparatively few British immigrants except those whose passages are paid wholly or in part. In 1924 Canada assisted 6,281 out of a total British immigration of 75,916 during the year. In the same period Australia assisted 26,038 out of a total immigration of 47,479, not of Britishers only but immigration from all countries."

Egg Regulations Remain Unchanged

Department of Agriculture Announces Decision Regarding Buying and Selling

Ottawa.—It has been decided not to introduce any changes in the regulations in the present regulations governing the buying and selling of eggs, the department of agriculture has announced. The question of modifying the existing regulations, it was stated, has been under consideration by different organizations in the trade as well as the department. It was found impossible, however, to come to any agreement on regulations that were likely to prove satisfactory to all parties concerned. In the circumstances it was thought advisable to give those interested a little more time to become accustomed to handling eggs under fairly close supervision before introducing any further modifications, or doing anything to increase the responsibilities of the producers more interested in the trade.

It may be possible therefore for Dominion representatives to attend both gatherings which would be a great benefit all round.

ONE BIG UNION LOSSES IN STELLARTON CASE

Stellarton United Mine Workers won their case against the One Big Union and will, receive the $13,000 tied up in union dues, as a result of Judge Chisholm's decision at Halifax. The dispute arose in Pictou County, where a number of the miners left the U.M.W. and formed two locals of the O.B.U., one at Thornburn and the other at Stellarton. The British Empire Steel Corporation having a wage contract with the U.M.W. continued the entire check-off to that organization in spite of the protests of the O.B.U., who claimed that a certain percentage of the check-off should be turned over to them. This was not done and the O.B.U. officials appealed to the courts, meanwhile by injunctions tying up some $13,000 of union funds for some months. When the case came before Mr. Justice Chisholm for argument Hugh Ross, K.C., represented the Acadia Coal Co., while A. D. Campbell and C. B. Smith appeared for the U.M.W.

When men like Sir Robert Falconer, head of one of Canada's greatest institutions of learning, slight Canadian art and artists, is it any wonder that many of our great painters have located in foreign fields?
